To create report cards which will measure the success of current and future Waikato River restoration actions

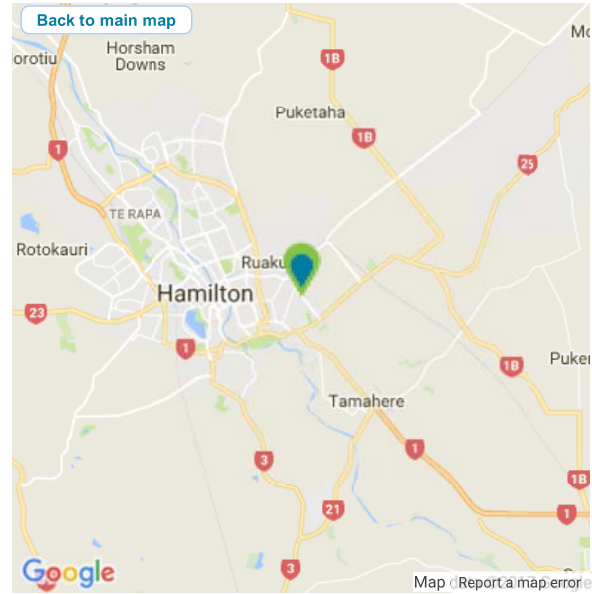

Project purpose: Report cards will measure the success of current and future Waikato River restoration actions, support adaptive management "learning by doing", help access accountability for actions funded, provide simple and effective communication and facilitate understanding and enhance community engagement in actively participating in restoration.

Over two years, the project will develop the Report Card Framework ("Framework") so that it can be used effectively by the WRA to assess the restoration success and prioritise future actions.

Five key elements, that are currently undeveloped or partially developed, need to be incorporated in the existing Framework before effective report cards can be published.

The project is funded by the Waikato River Authority (WRA 12-053)
